VERTICAL VALIDATION HIGHLIGHTS MARKET POTENTIAL

Our evaluation of competitive market segments, vertical demographics, and key decision-making factors will give you the information you need to succeed in identifying and entering new vertical markets.

Our Vertical Validation service will help you:

- Define market size of the target vertical
- Understand key motivators and pain points for prospects
- Realize competitor weaknesses and threats
- Characterize barriers to entry, adoption obstacles and ways to overcome them
- Evaluate the risks of pursuing and not pursuing the vertical opportunity
- Learn how to adapt your message to align with the vertical market's lexicon

This cost-effective service includes two days of time from a senior consultant, including one or two days at your site, as well as up to two days of additional time from an external domain expert. We'll interview up to ten key stakeholders and provide an interim report outlining findings, as well as a final presentation with recommendations and next steps. You'll gain strategic information gleaned from our proven models for risk assessment and market opportunity analysis.
